I Claim:

1. A hair fastener for use in styling hair of a human being comprising: a zigzag member having a series of substantially sharp angles spread out in alternate directions; and, a wave-like shape formed at each end of said zigzag member; whereby, the zigzag member is placed into a section of hair to secure.

- 2. The hair fastener of claim 1 wherein said zigzag member is substantially the same width throughout.
- 3. The hair fastener of claim 1 wherein a decretive member is attached by attaching means to at least one bend of the zigzag member.
- 4. A hair fastener for use in styling hair of a human being comprising: a zigzag member having a series of substantially sharp angles spread out in alternate directions; and, a bobby pin integrally formed at each end of said zigzag member; whereby, said hair fastener is placed into a section of hair to secure.

- 5. The hair fastener of claim 4 wherein said zigzag member is substantially the same width throughout.
- 6. The hair fastener of claim 4 wherein a decretive member is attached by attaching means to at least one bend of the zigzag member.